SONATYPE EDUCATION

Nexus Repository Health Check

A one-day session to review and inspect your Nexus Repository infrastructure, configuration, and related development processes, with the support and guidance from a Sonatype product expert. At the conclusion of the session, you will have a better grasp of the existing implementation, a recommended set of changes for application and process optimization, and the knowledge to effectively monitor and maintain the system going forward. Nexus Repository administration best practices will be provided throughout the session. In addition, the session will be documented in a Health Check Report following the delivery.

KEY ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

- Establish a baseline of hardware specifications and application configuration
- Optimize application and system configuration for stability, performance, and issue prevention
- Create application-monitoring and maintenance strategy
- Learn Nexus Repository administration best practices
- Post-session Health Check Report

RECOMMENDED FOR:

Organizations with an established deployment seeking to optimize their existing Nexus Repository for stability and performance while also reducing the risk of future issues.
